For more information about the Vintage Modifieds, see the June 28 edition of Track Talk.

JULY 16 RACE RECAP

Rain wiped out a night of weekly racing that also included the first of two visits by the Auto Value Winged Super Sprints. The Sprints will be back on August 27. Join us then when the Sprints are joined by the Outlaw Super Late Models, Template Late Models, Street Stock and Zoo Stock. Sponsor Auto Value Parts Stores will be 100 strong on the party deck to catch the action.

JULY 30 AUTOGRAPH NIGHT

When the 2021 Event Schedule was put together (and even into the first weeks of the season) we were operating under restrictions that wouldn't permit an Autograph Night; however, COVID restrictions have been lifted (especially for outdoor venues) so Autograph Night is back. Join us on July 30 for Autograph Night as all five weekly race classes race for extra purse money.

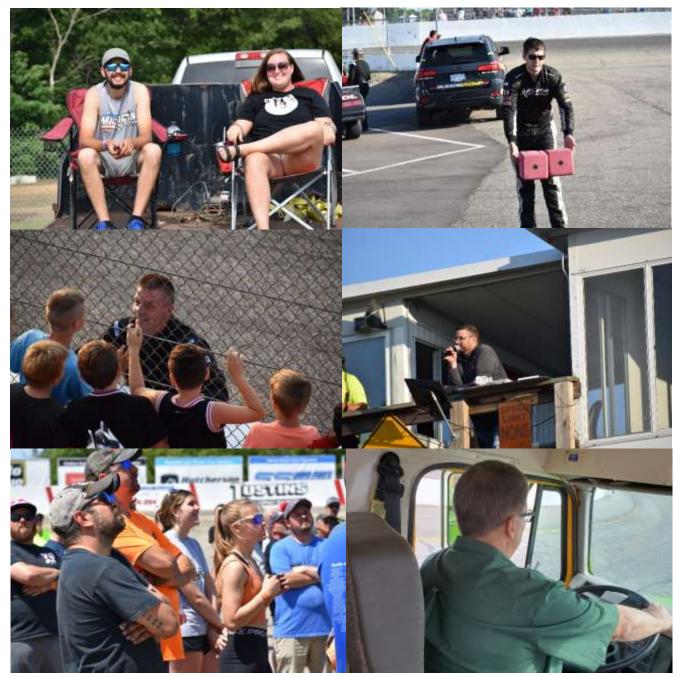

We won't be having a backpack giveaway this year but it'll be back in 2022.

PEOPLE WATCHING

TRACK TALK TRACK TALK TRACK TALK

Clockwise: Logan Hiemstra and girlfriend, Emily Schaub, chill before qualifying; Steve Needles rolls the big pink dice to establish the inversion before the June 4 Klash, Announcer Jason Seltzer leading the crowd in "wheeee"; Gary Howe driving a ride bus; drivers' meeting at the June 4 Klash; Scarecrow talks to the crowd and signs autographs after his first stunt at the Red, White & Boom Night of Destruction.

Fast, family fun for 71 years
